New York, Aug. 5.—The district attorney has secured a copy of the "Fundamental constitution and by-laws of the Reformed Hunchakist Revolutionary society." Assistant District Attorney Manley had the document translated—it is printed in Armenian—and it certainly proved an interesting bit of reading.

By the regulations of the constitution every member of the organization must take an oath to obey the constitution and by-laws. In view of the fact that the organization states plainly that the general assembly and various central committees have a right to condemn persons to death and carry out the punishment, it is the opinion of the men in the district attorney's office that every member of the organization is liable to indictment for murder by reason of these members taking the oath to obey the "fundamental constitution and by-laws." This new find of the district attorney was unearthed in a raid in the establishment of Stephen Kadarian, at 148 Tergh avenue.

DENEY ORGANIZATION.

The raid followed information received by Assistant District Attorney Manley to the effect that Kadarian had been a member of the central committee a year ago, and at the same time that Father Martoogessian is known to have been the general treasurer. Kadarian was brought to the district attorney's office today and questioned. He says he is no longer associated with the organization. Father Martoogessian has said the same thing, as have all the others rounded up since the killing of Hayhannes S. Tavshanjian in Union Square two weeks ago today.

Kadarian was not arrested, but is under surveillance. The little document is bound in red, and on the cover is the seal of the "Reformed Hunchakists," that is, a flag, two daggers, hammer and shattered fetters and chains.

The preamble states that the constitution and by-laws were adopted in 1903, and subsequently amended at the general convention held in Cairo last year. This is interesting as bearing upon the present investigation for the reason that Father Martoogessian and other terrorist members of the regular Hunchakist were expelled in 1903 and formed the Reformed Hunchakist society.

CAN CONDEMN TO DEATH.

It was in this year and following the general convention of the reformers at Cairo that the president of the original Hunchakist was tracked to London and slain. About the same time a regular Hunchakist was killed in Boston, and another followed from this country and killed after being frightfully tortured, in Odessa. Many members of the original Hunchakist organization were slain in 1903 and in the subsequent years. Article 63 of the constitution says that the "Central committee by unanimous vote can condemn any member to death being responsible to the general committee," and then goes on to set forth that the general committee can condemn to death without stating that body is responsible to anybody. At the end of the constitution it is stated most plainly that "every member of the society must take an oath to obey the constitution and by-laws."

MORE INDICTMENTS.

Father Martoogessian, the unfrocked and degraded Armenian priest under arrest for attempted robbery and who is suspected of having something to do with the killing of Tavshanjian, was brought before Judge Foster in general sessions today to plead to additional indictments. There have now been found against him four indictments for attempted robbery in that he tried to extort money from wealthy Armenians by threat.

Martoogessian had no statement to make, and his rumored confession implicating another was not forthcoming. Bedros Hampartoomian, the actual murderer of Tavshanjian, is still sullen and stubborn, and refuses to tell who it was that put him up to the killing.

The Military Governors of Kirin and Heilungkiang, in Manchuria, are consulting with a view to building a railway line between Pletunghitsu, a place situated to the north of Harbin and Sanhaing, about 250 miles east of Sungari River, for which permission has been granted by the Chinese Board of Commerce.

FIRST ATLANTIC CABLE

New York, Aug. 5.—This is a most memorable date in the history of telegraphic communication between America and Europe. It was just fifty years ago today, on Aug. 5, 1857, that the laying of the first Atlantic cable commenced at Valentia, Ireland. The project was conceived in 1853, when the magnetic telegraph had been in operation ten years, but it was not until four years later that the work was begun. The original projectors were Americans, including Prof. S. E. Morse, Peter Cooper, Cyrus W. Field, Moses Taylor and others.

The vessels employed to lay the cable were the Niagara and Susquehanna of the United States navy and the British vessels Leopard and Agamemnon. After sailing a few miles the cable snapped. This was soon repaired, but on Aug. 11, after 300 miles of wire had been paid out, it snapped again, and the vessels returned to Plymouth. In June of the following year a second attempt failed through a violent storm. The third voyage was successful. Junction of the continents was completed by 2650 miles of wire from Ireland to Newfoundland Aug. 5, 1858. The first two messages were from Queen Victoria to President Buchanan and his reply.

VIOLENT TEMPER

Gets Husband into Court—Wife Wants Divorce and Alimony.

Mary Brunner in a petition filed in common pleas court yesterday asks the court to set aside the marriage contract binding her and her husband, Emil Brunner, award her the custody of their child and order her husband to pay reasonable alimony.

She says they were married on the first day of October, 1896, and have one child, aged 10 years. The wife claims her husband has been cruel to her for the last five or six years, called her vile names and accused her of being guilty of improper conduct. She says her husband has a violent temper and he would frequently fly into a rage when at home, seizing chairs, dishes and other household furniture and throw them about the house smashing them into pieces. The charge of gross neglect of duty is also averred by the wife and she claims her husband failed to properly provide for her and their child. She says her husband is the owner of a house and lot on Brown avenue, worth about $1250. Judge M. E. Augst represents the wife.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 5.—Members of the order of Knights of Columbus are already arriving in considerable number to take part in their annual national convention, which is to begin its sessions tomorrow at the Jamestown exposition. Every section of the country will be represented and from all signs the attendance will establish a new high record. The delegates will be the guests of the Virginia branch of the order during their stay here and the arrangements for their entertainment have been made on a very elaborate scale. Canada and Mexico as well as all parts of the United States will be represented among the visitors. The exposition has designated next Thursday as Knights of Columbus Day at the big fair and on that day Cardinal Gibbons with other high prelates of the Catholic church will be the special guests of honor.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, and cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

POLAR TRIP

BY PEARY IN SEARCH OF POLE
WILL SOON BEGIN

Explorer Expects to Leave New York in Few Days With Most of Last Year's Crew.

Boston, Aug. 5.—Commander Robert E. Peary, who left Portland, Me., at noon today for New York, where he will complete preparations for his polar expedition stopped in Boston a short while this afternoon and told briefly his latest plans. He said that he had already been delayed three weeks and it might take another week before he could start from New York. He expects that the new boilers just installed will permit the ship to make considerably faster time to the north-land than before. The trip from New York to Sydney, C. B., will be made without a stop.

He continued: "My crew this time will be practically the same as on the last trip. Capt. Robert Bartlett is to command the Roosevelt. John Murphy, my old boatwain, is to be with me again. I am to have Wardwell, my chief engineer; Ross G. Marvin, of Bucksport, is to be my assistant, and he will be the only Maine member of the party. I am to have a new surgeon. There are several applications for the position but as yet no one has been chosen. I will settle that when I get to New York. I am leaving the getting together of the greater number of the crew to Captain Bartlett."

Asked if he expected to reach the pole this time, Peary said:

"A man who has had any experience in the north knows that to say he will do a certain thing up there is madness. No man knows what he can accomplish in the Arctic until he has actually done it. I feel that I am as familiar with that part of the world as any man, but I would not under any circumstances make a prediction of what I will do. I have learned many lessons from my other trips, especially my last one, and I shall profit by all this experience. Whether I shall find the North pole or not is a question which will not be answered until I have either reached it or failed."

The Abyssinian army has 336,000 men and its equipment includes 50 modern guns.

Have Trouble

with Your Food?

Try
Grape-Nuts

Perfectly Cooked,
Ready to Serve,
Delicious and Healthful.

"The ordinary breakfast cereal cooked a few minutes in a half-hearted way will in time weaken the stomach of anything short of an ox."

"Any preparation of wheat or oats put in to water that is below the boiling point and cooked as mush is usually served, remains a pasty, indigestible mass. The cells are tough and unopened. In addition, the stomach of a person sensitively constituted refuses to do anything with the pasty mass. It is sent into the second stomach, the Duodenum, where in consequence of the long time of the first process of digestion, is fermented and soured. As an eminent medical man pertinently states, the stomachs of half the people going about the streets are about in the condition of an old vinegar barrel."

"Intestinal dyspepsia is the direct consequence of such feeding."

Knowledge of these facts and a wide experience in the preparation and use of cereals brought out the product known as Grape-Nuts, manufactured with special reference to having the nitrogenous and starchy parts of the grains, of which the food is composed, perfectly and scientifically cooked at the factory, ready for immediate use and therefore not subject to the manipulations of any cook, good or bad.

The starch of the grains, changed to grape-sugar, can be seen glistening on the little granules, and gives forth a delicate sweetish taste, very palatable.

Children and adults obtain fine results from the use of Grape-Nuts food. It is so perfectly adapted to the wants of the human body and so easily digested that many cases are on record of nursing babies being fed very successfully on it. "There's a Reason."
